HUERTA ELECTED
AND IN CONTROL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Mexico City, July 6.—Latest returns from yesterday's election today confirmed the re-election of President Huerta and the choice of Minister of War Aureliano Blanquet for vice president, a post that had been vacant since the assassination of Pino Suarez. Huerta is in complete control of congress.

It is expected that the senators and deputies will be called into session within a few days to declare the election void. A new provisional president will be selected. It is probable that this will be Pedro Lascurain, unless Huerta changes his mind or his supporters induce him to retain office.

A. B. C. MEDIATORS
AT LOGGERSHEADS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 6.—Warfare as bitter as that which has rent Mexico asunder, has developed among the three South American mediators, who for more than six weeks conducted the negotiations at Niagara Falls.

This antagonism, it was learned today following the arrival of a majority of the mediation party in New York, has been such throughout the conference as to make decisive action by the mediators themselves impossible except upon minor matters.

On one side has stood Minister Romulo S. Naon of Argentina, striving to give credit for the origin and progress of the negotiations to his own country. Incidentally he has claimed much personal credit. Opposed to him has been ranged the Brazilian ambassador, Don Domicio De Gama, and the Chilean minister, Dr. Eduardo Suarez Mujica. Both have privately denied the claim of Argentina to major credit for the conference. Both wanted to adjourn the proceedings when Dr. Naon was most eager to retain. Both were consistently opposed to the sort of publicity gained by Naon in going to see President Wilson in Washington.

Back of the personal expression of disagreement lies the deep sympathy of Chile and Brazil and the mutual distrust of Argentina. The position of the two former nations in reference to Argentina is described by men familiar with Latin American politics as being similar to the position of Germany with reference to England at the present time. In all the negotiations at Niagara Falls this national antipathy was carefully concealed from the public, but it was nevertheless a big stumbling block to the plans for peace in Mexico which the American government wished to see perfected. When the proceedings were nearing their end the ill feeling began to manifest itself particularly.

The credit for having originated mediation had been claimed by Minister Naon. His rivals answered this claim at the luncheon given the press at the end of their work. Ambassador Da Gama spoke of the visit paid to the state department at the beginning of mediation by the minister from Chile and the minister from Argentina. "In the corrected proofs of the speech the wording was altered for diplomatic reasons, but spokesmen for the Chilean minister at once notified the correspondents of this alteration of the record. It was definitely claimed by men close to the Chilean and Brazilian envoys that the former was the first to suggest sending Dr. Naon to Washington.

The Brazilian and Chilean envoys are in New York today as are also two of the Huerta delegates—Emilio Rabassa and Augustin Rodriguez. The Argentine minister is in Washington. The Huerta delegates still hope for the appointment by the Constitutionalists of peace delegates who shall confer with them here. The two mediators are waiting to give them such help as they may. But the schism among the mediators, and the refusal of the rebels thus far to deal with them, have made it evident that the Huerta delegates will sail for Europe within a few weeks to take up their exile.

Strike at Woolwich Arsenal.

London, July 6.—The manufacture of arms and ammunition for the British army and navy at the Woolwich arsenal, was paralyzed today by the walk-out of seven thousand employees, who joined 5,000 other employees who had struck Saturday. The 12,000 strikers are demanding a revision of working conditions.

DOCTOR'S WIFE WHO PLACED DICTOGRAPH IN MURDER ROOM AND THE DOCTOR.

At left, Dr. Edwin Carman; at right, Mrs. Edwin Carman.

Freeport, L. I., July 6.—District Attorney Smith and Acting Coroner Norton after receiving word that Mrs. Carman, wife of the physician in whose office Mrs. Louise Bailey was murdered on June 30 while getting medical treatment, that Mrs. Carman had had a dictograph in the office at the time of the murder, and proceeded to put Mrs. Carman through a third degree examination. Mrs. Carman says that she had the dictograph placed in her husband's office that she might be able to hear what women patients said to him while receiving treatment. The police are certain that the bullet was not intended for Mrs. Bailey but was intended for the doctor.

POLICE SEEKING
MAKERS OF BOMB IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 6.—Defied by anarchists in their investigation of the bomb explosion that caused the death of three men and a woman on Saturday a squad of detectives detailed by Police Commissioner Woods today began search for the plant in which the infernal machine was manufactured. Though leaders of the anarchists and I. W. W. declared today that the victims of the explosion were not terrorist agents of their organizations, the backing of a ring that has steadily been growing in boldness since the I. W. W. raids of last winter.

In this connection the police are dragging-netting anarchist quarters for a trace of Michael, Auspenti, alias Michael Murphy, the young agitator who was present when the explosion occurred.

Berkman says that Murphy told him he was going to New Jersey but the police failed to find any trace of him in the localities frequented by the terrorists in that state. Firmly convinced that the bomb whose explosion mangled Carl Hansen, Arthur Caron, Charles Berg and Marie Chavez was intended for use against the Rockefeller's, the police are striving to find the place where it was made. While they were working on this phase of the situation today, the coroner was making preparations for the inquest over the four victims. He was handicapped by the failure of the police to find Murphy, the only living member of the party that had possession of the infernal machine.

The authorities admitted today that the situation developed by recent agitation of I. W. W. and anarchist trouble-makers had reached a critical stage. Berkman's announcement that his followers would make a monster demonstration next Saturday, worried officials of the municipal government. They have no doubt that if this demonstration is permitted an attempt will be made to martyrize the victims of the explosion, but they at the same time fear that if the demonstration is forbidden the anarchists will employ bombs in revenge.

Mrs. Georgiana White of Catskill telephoned to the local police this morning that her daughter, Helen, aged 20, had eloped on Sunday night in a motor car with a Greek named Henry Getston. A man named Tyler drove the car. Getston was employed in a Catskill restaurant and lived at 133 West Bridge street. Helen wore a white dress, with blue shirred belt and low black shoes. She also wore a white hat. Chief Wood had the police force looking for the elopers but they got not a glimpse of them.

YOUNG AMERICANS'
SANE CELEBRATION

Fourth of July at the Federation

House Celebrated by Children in a Delightful Manner—Youthful Violinist a Feature.

Perhaps nowhere in our city was the spirit of July Fourth so thoroughly in evidence as at the Federation House, where on Saturday afternoon the members of the Girls' Federation House Club presented a short program appropriate to the day. On arriving at the Federation House the guests came upon a picture long to be remembered. The lowering afternoon sun cast a golden glory over the big stretch of green grass in front of the house and here were two big rings of bright faced little girls, apparently descendants from many lands and people, playing "All about the mulberry tree," while a little beyond, on "the diamond," small boys were disporting themselves in playing "leap frog," turning somersaults or standing on their small heads, all indicating their personal observance of independence day, despite their original nationality. Over all, "Old Glory" waved in the breezes and members of the Social Center Association watched the fun from the porch of the house.

So long as the games were supervised by older persons, all went merrily. But when left to their many selves, these small representatives of many foreign lands were found prone to assert themselves quite aggressively in behalf of their own ideas of "freedom to enjoy the pursuit of happiness." Finally, after many delays, it was announced that the program was about to begin, and there was a scurrying of little feet from all parts of the grounds. When all were seated on the grass at the foot of the steps ascending to the Federation House, the eager, upturned faces were indeed a study. There were big sisters with babies in their arms, proteges of the Day Nursery; toddlers; boys and girls of school age from kindergartens to high school age, and all had come to hear something of the day which was being celebrated, with a good time rather than a big one.

Mrs. W. N. Fessenden, president of the Social Center Association, welcomed the children and told them how, all over the land, which all thought so beautiful, people were celebrating the day which made America independent, for own land. She told them it was a day on which we thought of the great men who had given their lives to make it a free land in which to learn, to work and to play. In those days men had to fight for their country. Now instead of fighting for our country we are learning to live for that country, by growing, from the littlest boys and girls to the grown men and women, better, more helpful and of greater service to the world. In closing, Mrs. Fessenden asked the children to try every day until the next Fourth of July, to help make their beautiful country better and happier by being better and happier themselves.

The first number on the program prepared by the girls, was the reading of Lincoln's "Gettysburg Address," and it was well read by John Edwards. Then came a little musical playette in one act, "School Scene," in which Fannie Katz was the teacher and the Misses Sherry, Shuster, Goldman and Jacobson the pupils. The girls all sang and acted their parts very nicely. The next number on the program was a surprise indeed to the grown-ups of the audience. It was announced that Joseph Tulchiner would play some patriotic selections on his violin. Now Joseph is a lad of not more than ten or eleven summers, with a serious, earnest face and a love of music in his soul and in the tips of his fingers. Unaccompanied, he played four or five of our most popular patriotic songs, the music growing in breadth of tone, richness and fervor as he came to a climatic close with the "Star Spangled Banner." It so enthused all present that the entire audience sang one verse of the last named song, Joseph playing the accompaniment with firmness and sweetness. The music was followed by the recitation of "A Character Sketch of Washington," given admirably by Florence Schuster. Then the children sang to the accompanying notes of Joseph's violin, "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean," and the program was brought to a close by Joseph who played a final solo. It was learned from the lad that his father had taught him to "tune his own violin, and evidently the little fellow has an unusually true ear, judging not only from the accuracy of the tuning but from the accuracy with which he played all of the numbers. "By his bowing, better, saner, more helpful idea of this land and its ideals than they had before this year's celebration of Independence Day.

After the program, the Federation House children were treated to ice cream cones, their little guests not being forgotten, while ice cream was sold to the older people. Throughout the evening a general good time was enjoyed and a host of little folks and their elders, better, saner, more helpful idea of this land and its ideals than they had before this year's celebration of Independence Day.

Ramsey Reinstated.
Hank Ramsey has won his fight over the management of the Troy club of the state league. Owner Magill discharged him but now ten prominent Troy fans have advanced $5,000 to take over the franchise and pay the debts and Hank has been reinstated.

Y. M. C. A. BOYS GOING
TO CAMP ANAWANA

Tomorrow morning about forty

Kingston boys go to Camp Anawana near Hurleyville, Sullivan county N. Y., for a period of two weeks. The camp is in charge of George D. Beckwith, boys' work secretary of the local Y. M. C. A.

A special car containing trunks, camp equipment and supplies was sent out on the N. Y. THEIR FOURTH NOT
SAFE AND SANE

Those Who Celebrated Unwisely And Were Ranged Before Recorder Grogan for Punishment and Advice Were Unusually Numerous.

The Fourth of July and Sunday proved to be too much for those who indulge in the flowing bowl as was evidenced by the large crowd of penitents which Recorder Grogan saw this morning. Most of them were plain drunks and escaped lightly.

William Farrell was arrested on Saturday night by Policeman Shader for being disorderly. He pleaded guilty and so hard that he was discharged with a reprimand.

Roger O'Brien, arrested on complaint of Police Master Francisco of the Ulster & Delaware railroad, was arraigned and pleaded guilty of train riding. He paid a fine of $2. On Sunday Roger again became intoxicated and had a fight on Railroad avenue. It took the combined efforts of Policemen White and Ryan and Special Officer Goodsell to land him in a cell. This time the court was not so lenient and gave him thirty days in jail.

George Moore, colored, became disorderly on Saturday night in the hotel of Stephen Shufeldt on the Strand and was arrested. This morning he was arraigned but discharged with a reprimand.

HUERTA ELECTED
AND IN CONTROL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Mexico City, July 6.—Latest returns from yesterday's election today confirmed the re-election of President Huerta and the choice of Minister of War Aureliano Blanquet for vice president, a post that had been vacant since the assassination of Pino Suarez. Huerta is in complete control of congress.

It is expected that the senators and deputies will be called into session within a few days to declare the election void. A new provisional president will be selected. It is probable that this will be Pedro Lascurain, unless Huerta changes his mind or his supporters induce him to retain office.

A. B. C. MEDIATORS
AT LOGGERSHEADS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 6.—Warfare, as bitter as that which has rent Mexico asunder, has developed among the three South American mediators, who for more than six weeks conducted the negotiations at Niagara Falls.

This antagonism, it was learned today following the arrival of a majority of the mediation party in New York, has been such throughout the conference as to make decisive action by the mediators themselves impossible except upon minor matters.

On one side has stood Minister Romulo S. Naon of Argentina, striving to give credit for the origin and progress of the negotiations to his own country. Incidentally he has claimed much personal credit. Opposed to him has been ranged the Brazilian ambassador, Don Domício De Gama, and the Chilean minister, Dr. Eduardo Suarez Mujica. Both have privately denied the claim of Argentina to major credit for the conference. Both wanted to adjourn the proceedings when Dr. Naon was most eager to retain. Both were consistently opposed to the sort of publicity gained by Naon in going to see President Wilson in Washington.

Back of the personal expression of disagreement lies the deep-seated pathos of Chile and Brazil, and the mutual distrust of Argentina. The position of the two former nations in reference to Argentina is described by men familiar with Latin American politics as being similar to the position of Germany with reference to England at the present time. In all the negotiations at Niagara Falls this national antipathy was carefully concealed from the public, but it was nevertheless a big stumbling block to the plans for peace in Mexico which the American government wished to see perfected. When the proceedings were nearing their end the ill feeling began to manifest itself particularly.

The credit for having originated mediation had been claimed by Minister Naon. His rivals answered this claim at the luncheon given the press at the end of their work. Ambassador Da Gama spoke of the visit paid to the state department at the beginning of mediation by "The minister from Chile and the minister from Argentina." In the corrected proofs of the speech the wording was altered, for diplomatic reasons, but spokesmen for the Chilean minister at once notified the correspondents of this alteration of the record. It was definitely claimed by men close to the Chilean and Brazilian envoys that the former was the first to suggest mediation and the one to suggest sending Dr. Naon to Washington.

The Brazilian and Chilean envoys are in New York today as are also two of the Huerta delegates—Emilio Rabassa and Augustin Rodriguez. The Argentine minister is in Washington.

The Huerta delegates still hope for the appointment by the Constitutionalists of peace delegates who shall confer with them here. The Chilean and the Argentine are waiting to give them such help as they may. But the schism among the mediators, and the refusal of the rebels thus far to deal with them, have made it evident that the Huerta delegates will sail for Europe within a few weeks to take up their exile.

Freeport, L. I., July 6.—District Attorney Smith and Acting Coroner Norton after receiving word that Mrs. Carman, wife of the physician in whose office Mrs. Louise Bailey was murdered on June 30 while getting medical treatment, that Mrs. Carman had had a dictograph in the office at the time of the murder, and proceeded to put Mrs. Carman through a third degree examination. Mrs. Carman says that she had the dictograph placed in her husband's office that she might be able to hear what women patients said to him while receiving treatment. The police are certain that the dictograph was not intended for Mrs. Bailey but was intended for the doctor.

POLICE SEEKING
MAKERS OF BOMB IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 6.—Defied by anarchists in their investigation of the bomb explosion that caused the death of three men and a woman on Saturday a squad of detectives detailed by Police Commissioner Woods today began search for the plant in which the infernal machine was manufactured. Though leaders of the anarchists and I. W. W. declared today that the victims of the explosion were not terrorist agents of their organizations, the police believe that they had the backing of a ring that has steadily been growing in boldness since the I. W. W. raids of last winter.

In this connection the police are drag-netting anarchist quarters for a trace of Michael Aspentini, alias Michael Murphy, the young agitator who was present when the explosion occurred.

Berkman says that Murphy told him he was going to New Jersey but the police failed to find any trace of him in the localities frequented by the terrorists in that state. Firmly convinced that the bomb whose explosion mangled Carl Hansen, Arthur Caron, Charles Berg and Marie Chavez was intended for use against the Rockefellers, the police are striving to find the place where it was made. While they were working on this phase of the situation today, the coroner was making preparations for the inquest over the four victims. He was handicapped by the failure of the police to find Murphy, the only living member of the party that had possession of the infernal machine.

The authorities admitted today that the situation developed by recent agitation of I. W. W. and anarchist trouble-makers had reached a critical stage. Berkman's announcement that his followers would make a monster demonstration next Saturday, worried officials of the municipal government. They have no doubt that if this demonstration is permitted an attempt will be made to martyrize the victims of the explosion, but they at the same time fear that if the demonstration is forbidden the anarchists will employ bombs in revenge.

YOUNG AMERICANS'
SANE CELEBRATION

Fourth of July at the Federation

House Celebrated by Children in a Delightful Manner—Youthful Violinist a Feature.

Perhaps nowhere in our city was the spirit of July Fourth so thoroughly in evidence as at the Federation House, where on Saturday afternoon the members of the Girls' Federation House Club presented a short program appropriate to the day. On arriving at the Federation House the guests came upon a picture long to be remembered. The lowering afternoon sun cast a golden glory over the big stretch of green grass in front of the house and here were two big rings of bright faced little girls, apparently descendants from many lands and people, playing "All about the mulberry tree," while a little beyond, on "the diamond," small boys were disputing themselves in playing "leap frog," turning somersaults or standing on their small heads, all indicating their personal observance of independence day, despite their original nationality. Over all, "Old Glory" waved in the breezes and members of the Social Center Association watched the fun from the porch of the house.

So long as the games were supervised by older persons, all went merrily. But when left to their many selves, these small representatives of many foreign lands were found prone to assert themselves quite aggressively in behalf of their own ideas of "freedom to enjoy the pursuit of happiness." Finally, after many delays, it was announced that the program was about to begin, and there was a hurrying of little feet from all parts of the grounds. When all were seated on the grass at the foot of the steps ascending to the Federation House, the eager, upturned faces were indeed a study. There were big sisters with babies in their arms, proteges of the Day Nursery; toddlers; boys and girls of school age from kindergartners to high school age, and all had come to hear something of the day which was being celebrated.

With a good time rather than a big noise. Mrs. W. N. Fessenden, president of the Social Center Association, welcomed the children and told them how all over the land, when all thought so beautiful, people were celebrating the day which made America independent, its own day. She told them it was a day on which we thought of the great men who had given their lives to make it a free land in which to learn, to work and to play. In those days men had to fight for their country. Now instead of fighting for our country we are learning to live for that country, by growing, from the littlest boys and girls to the grown men and women, better, more helpful and of greater service to the world. In closing, Mrs. Fessenden asked the children to try every day until the next Fourth of July, to help make their beautiful country better and happier by being better and happier themselves.

The first number on the program prepared by the girls, was the reading of Lincoln's "Gettysburg Address," and it was well read by John Edwards. Then came a little musical play in his own act, "A School Scene," in which Fannie Katz was the teacher and the Misses Sherry, Shuster, Goldman and Jacobson the pupils. The girls all sang and acted their parts very nicely. The next number on the program was a surprise indeed to the grown-ups of the audience. It was announced that Joseph Tulchiner would play some patriotic selections on his violin. Now Joseph is a lad of not more than ten or eleven summers, with a serious, earnest face, and the love of music in his soul and in the tips of his fingers. Unaccompanied, he played four or five of our most popular patriotic songs, the music growing in breadth of tone, richness and fervor as he came to a climatic close with the "Star Spangled Banner." It so enthused all present that the entire audience sang one verse of the last named song, Joseph playing the accompaniment with firmness and sweetness. The music was followed by the recitation of "A Character Sketch of Washington," given admirably by Florence Scudder. Then the children sang to the accompanying notes of Joseph's violin, "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean," and the program was brought to a close by Joseph who played a final solo. It was learned from the lad that his father had taught him to tune his own violin, and evidently the little fellow has an unusually true ear, judging not only from the accuracy of the tuning but from the accuracy with which he played all of the numbers "by ear." His bowing had an exceptional sweep and grace and it was indeed evident that more than usual talent may be expected from the violinist of July Fourth, 1914, at the Federation House.

After the program, the Federation House children were treated to ice cream cones, their little guests not being forgotten, while ice cream was sold to the older people. Throughout the evening a general good time was enjoyed and a host of little folks and their elders have a better, saner, more helpful idea of this land and its ideals than they had before this year's celebration of Independence Day.

Y.M.C.A. BOYS GOING
TO CAMP ANAWANA

Tomorrow morning about forty

There are still accommodations for a few more boys, and if anyone should decide at the last moment to go to camp tomorrow morning on the 9:15 train, baggage can be checked on the railroad ticket.

THEIR FOURTH NOT
SAFE AND SANE

Those Who Celebrated Unwisely And Were Hanged Before Recorder Grogan for Punishment and Advice Were Unusually Numerous.

The Fourth of July and Sunday proved to be too much for those who indulge in the flowing bowl as was evidenced by the large crowd of penitents which Recorder Grogan saw this morning. Most of them were plain drunks and escaped lightly.

William Farrell was arrested on Saturday night by Policeman Shadler for being disorderly. He pleaded guilty and so hard that he was discharged with a reprimand.

Roger O'Brien, arrested on complaint of Roadmaster Franco of the Ulster & Delaware railroad, was arraigned and pleaded guilty of train riding. He paid a fine of $2. On Sunday Roger again became intoxicated and had a fight on Railroad avenue. It took the combined efforts of Policeman White and Ryan and Special Officer Goodsell to land him in a cell. This time the court was not so lenient and gave him thirty days in jail.

George Moore, colored, became disorderly on Saturday night in the hotel of Stephen Shufeldt of the Strand and was arrested. This morning he was arraigned but discharged with a reprimand.

John Smith, aged 16 years, was arrested on Saturday by Policeman Reardon for violating of the city charter by shooting off a blank cartridge pistol. He was discharged after a warning by the court.

Chester Christiana, who has been frequently seen in recorder's court, celebrated the day by becoming intoxicated and gave such a tussle when placed under arrest that it took Sergeant Hanley and Policeman Johnson and O'Neil and Probation Officer Golden some time to subdue him. He escaped on the strength of having celebrated the country's natal day.

Christopher Cummings was arrested on a warrant sworn out by his sister alleging assault in the third degree. He was arraigned this morning and pleaded not guilty. The case was adjourned until Tuesday morning, defendant being held in $500 bail which was furnished by his mother.

Herman Haas, who served ten days for assaulting his wife, got out on the Fourth and proceeded to get inebriated. He created so much disturbance over the holiday that Policeman Dempsey found it necessary to restrain him. He got a sentence of seventy-five days in jail but sentence was suspended after he had promised to leave town at once.

Albany on Powell Route.

The steamer Albany came in the Rondout creek on Saturday night and is now running in place of the steamer Mary Powell between this port and New York. The Powell is tied up at the Sunflower dock off Slightsburg and will be used as an excursion boat until later in the season. Some of the Powell's crew have been transferred to the Albany.

Turn on the Light!

IT is the way of the world to set itself against the ignorant wrong-doer with less mercy than it shows the cultivated man who sins KNOWINGLY. One stumbles because there is no light in his darkness; the other sins because he's a bad egg at heart. Nature is kinder than men: She bears with and withholds her penalties from the ignorant sinner longer than she does from the conscious evil-doer. But both have to PAY in the end.

FOURTH OF JULY IN SAUGERTIES

Saugerties, July 6.—With weather conditions ideal, the excellent program prepared by the Saugerties Business Men's Association of Saugerties for the observance of the glorious Fourth was carried out successfully from start to finish to the enjoyment and satisfaction of residents and the multitude of visitors that filled Saugerties, that most beautiful town on the banks of the Hudson river. The exercises began promptly at 9:30 at the High School grounds by a flag raising participated in by scholars of the junior grades forming the letters U. S. A. in the center of a hollow square formed by the Boy Scouts followed by an inspection of the fire department in charge of Chief Engineer Henry Schneider. The parade was then started, Wallace F. Winchell acting as grand marshal and Townsend Ackerman and Winfield R. Snyder aides. Saugerties Concert Band, J. R. Tappen Post, G. A. R., Saugerties Exempt Firemen's Association, H. D. After the parade a patriotic address by ex-Governor William Sulzer was listened to by a mass of people filling Main street from Partition to Market streets. The address was liberally applauded, indicating the ex-Governor has supporters in Saugerties. In the afternoon 1,500 people enjoyed the horse racing and baseball games. From 6:30 to 8:30 a free vaudeville with excellent talent was provided. The day's celebration concluded with a grand display of fireworks, the best in the history of Saugerties. The celebration reflects credit to the Business Men's Association and the efficient committees.

SAWKILL POLICE TO HAVE A HORSE

The board of water commissioners held a meeting on Friday afternoon at the city hall. Results are being achieved by the inspection work of Frank Murphy on the water shed, it was reported. Inspector O'Neil reported 68 inspections, three leaks found, six hose violations, 6 new buildings inspected, and 7 masons served with notices.

Dr. Chandler tendered the report of Frank Murphy that pig pens had been ordered cleaned out, Gypsies had been driven away from the streams, bathers caught in smaller streams had been warned away. Some fishermen had also been warned. Above and below Woodstock village forty bathers had been chased. Signs will be provided warning all bathers away.

Dr. Chandler suggested that the work could be accomplished better if the inspector was provided with a saddle horse. The public wants clean water and can have it if the inspector is given means of quick transportation. A few dollars spent in this way would be good policy for the board, he felt sure. The matter was referred to Dr. Chandler with power.

The following bills were audited: Schoonmaker & Dunlap, $4; R. D. Wood, Manufacturing Company, $27.98; Standard Oil Company, $14.18; J. A. McNeilis, $38.90; Teller & Tappen, $3.31; Everett & Treadwell, $11; Pennsylvania Salt Company, $364.15; Brown Company, $10; L. S. Winne, $15.51; Palen's Sons, $65.52; E. G. Long, $7; Joseph Block, $3.60; James M. Baird, $100; Brown & Wilson, $13.50; New York Telephone Company, $16.90; Irving Lasher, $4.78; King Company, $28.80; Van Etten & Hogan, $237.17; W. D. Hale, $25.50.

Commissioner Harrison reported that forty-four men had been at work on the new line on Manor avenue and about twelve hundred feet had been laid. About two days' work would complete that section. Sheathing had been the cause of the delay. He also said it would be inexpedient to connect dead ends on Moore street as the high and low pressure could not be joined as suggested. After the new line is laid it will give better service to that portion of the city. The Cooper Lake reservoir is one foot down he said as the rains had not raised the water much. Two reservoirs are entirely full.

Commissioner Roach moved that twenty-four bonds due June 1, 1914, be turned over to the city treasurer. Four bonds purchased by the board were ordered cancelled.

An invitation was received from the Knights of Columbus for the celebration in front of the city hall on Saturday and accepted. The report of James M. Caird for a period covering three years showed the water in excellent condition. There was 20 per cent less bacteria than ever before at the present time and no coil in the last report. For two years past the average condition of the reservoir had been 78 per cent better than for the rest of the state.

The board adjourned subject to the call of the chair.

State Fish Hatchery Closed.

Because of the lack of state funds the state fish hatchery on Huckleberry hill at Margaretville will not be operated this summer and Superintendent Annin was notified on Wednesday to discharge all the employees and to liberate all the trout at the hatchery at once. The hatchery was built about ten years ago and has furnished large quantities of trout for the streams of this section of the state.

Ulster's Fruit Crop.

Large quantities of sweet and sour cherries have been shipped from southern Ulster during the past week. The cool weather has retarded the ripening of raspberries and the prospect of a good crop is not so reassuring. Fire blight has injured many pear trees and is becoming alarming. Some orchards in Lattin-town have lost hundreds of trees.

First Hours of Sleep the Best.

It has been proved conclusively that the first hours of sleep are deeper than the rest and that with the length the tendency to wake at any noise increases. From this follows the recuperative value of the few first hours of deep sleep and the explanation why men of great energy like Napoleon, Frederick the Great and Virchow were completely satisfied with a sleep of from three to four hours.

HOSPITAL METHODS

There are many points of similarity between our big dental offices and hospitals. Our three offices treat from thirty to forty thousand patients each year. This number seems fabulous to a private practitioner.

Another similarity is that our offices are all equipped with the latest apparatus, light's, electrical appliances, dental chairs, etc., and each one is manned by a skillful corps of operators and dental nurses.

After every operation, however small a dental nurse cleans up the operating room and sterilizes all of the instruments used.

Turn on the Light!

It is the way of the world to set itself against the ignorant wrong-doer with less mercy than it shows the cultivated man who sins KNOWINGLY. One stumbles because there is no light in his darkness; the other sins because he's a bad egg at heart. Nature is kinder than men: She bears with and withholds her penalties from the ignorant sinner longer than she does from the conscious evil-doer. But both have to PAY in the end.

The nature of pure beer is helpfulness. No use, but ABUSE, of it is unnatural. Use it naturally and you will daily become as nature intended you to be—more natural—and to be natural means healthfulness and happiness.

FOURTH OF JULY IN SAUGERTIES

Saugerties, July 6.—With weather conditions ideal, the excellent program prepared by the Saugerties Business Men's Association of Saugerties for the observance of the glorious Fourth was carried out successfully from start to finish to the enjoyment and satisfaction of residents and the multitude of visitors that filled Saugerties, that most beautiful town on the banks of the Hudson river. The exercises began promptly at 9:30 at the High School grounds by a flag raising participated in by scholars of the junior grades forming the letters U. S. A. in the center of a hollow square formed by the Boy Scouts followed by an inspection of the fire department in charge of Chief Engineer Henry Schneider. The parade was then started, Wallace F. Winchell acting as grand marshal and Townsend Ackerman and Winchell R. Snyder aides. Saugerties Concert Band, J. R. Tappen Post, G. A. R., Saugerties Exempt Firemen's Association, H. D. Laffin Hose Co., Col's. Fife, Drum and Bugle Corps, Washington Hook and Ladder Co., R. A. Snyder Hose Co., Siskies' Cornet Band, Junior Order United American Mechanics, C. E. Hamlin's Uniform Rank, K. of P., Esopus Tribe, No. 482, Improved Order of Red Men in costume with floats representing Indian village with a number of papooses, pony and drag, Cow Boy Broncho Charley, the village directors and officials in carriages, Hon. William Sulzer, the orator of the day, Mrs. Sulzer, Hon. Robert A. Snyder, Henry Dickhaut and the Business Men's Association in automobiles. After the parade a patriotic address by ex-Governor William Sulzer was listened to by a mass of people filling Main street from Partition to Market streets. The address was liberally applauded, indicating the ex-Governor has supporters in Saugerties. In the afternoon 1,500 people enjoyed the horse racing and baseball games. From 6:30 to 8:30 a free vaudeville with excellent talent was provided. The day's celebration concluded with a grand display of fireworks, the best in the history of Saugerties. The celebration reflects credit to the Business Men's Association and the efficient committees.

SAWKILL POLICE TO HAVE A HORSE

The board of water commissioners held a meeting on Friday afternoon at the city hall. Results are being achieved by the inspection work of Frank Murphy on the water shed. It was reported. Inspector O'Neill reported 68 inspections, three leaks found, six hose violations, 6 new buildings inspected, and 7 masons served with notices.

Dr. Chandler tendered the report of Frank Murphy that pig pens had been ordered cleaned out. Gypsies had been driven away from the streams, bathers caught in smaller streams had been warned away. Some fishermen had also been warned. Above and below Woodstock village forty bathers had been chased. Signs will be provided warning all bathers away.

Dr. Chandler suggested that the work could be accomplished better if the inspector was provided with a saddle horse. The public wants clean water and can have it if the inspector is given means of quick transportation. A few dollars spent in this way would be good policy for the board, he felt sure. The matter was referred to Dr. Chandler with power.

The following bills were audited: Schoonmaker & Dunlap, $4; R. D. Wood Company, $1,953.00; Walworth Manufacturing Company, $27.98; Standard Oil Company, $14.18; J. A. McNeil, $38.90; Teller & Tappen, $3.31; Everett & Treadwell, $11; Pennsylvania Salt Company, $364.16; Brown Company, $20; L. S. Winne, $15.51; Palen's Sons, $65.52; E. G. Long, $7; Joseph Block, $3.60; James M. Baird, $100; Brown & Wilson, $12.50; New York Telephone Company, $16.90; Irving Lasher, $4.78; King Company, $28.80; Van Etten & Hogan, $327.17; W. D. Hale, $25.50.

Commissioner Harrison reported that forty-four men had been at work on the new line on Manor avenue and about twelve hundred feet had been laid. About two days' work would complete that section. Sheathing had been the cause of the delay. He also said it would be inexpedient to connect dead ends on Moore street as the high and low pressure could not be joined as suggested. After the new line is laid it will give better service to that portion of the city. The Cooper Lake reservoir is one foot down he said as the rains had not raised the water much. Two reservoirs are entirely full.

Commissioner Roach moved that twenty-four bonds due June 1, 1914, be turned over to the city treasurer. Four bonds purchased by the board were ordered cancelled.

An invitation was received from the Knights of Columbus for the celebration in front of the city hall on Saturday and accepted.

The report of James M. Caird for a period covering three years showed the water in excellent condition. There was 20 per cent less bacteria than ever before at the present time and no coli in the last report. For two years past the average condition of the reservoir had been 78 per cent better than for the rest of the state.

The board adjourned subject to the call of the chair.

State Fish Hatchery Closed.

Because of the lack of state funds the state fish hatchery on Huckleberry hill at Margaretville will not be operated this summer and Superintendent Annin was notified on Wednesday to discharge all the employees and to liberate all the trout at the hatchery at once. The hatchery was built about ten years ago and has furnished large quantities of trout for the streams of this section of the state.

Ulster's Fruit Crop.

Large quantities of sweet and sour cherries have been shipped from southern Ulster during the past week. The cool weather has retarded the ripening of raspberries and the prospect of a good crop is not so reassuring. Fire blight has injured many pear trees and is becoming alarming. Some orchards in Lettingtown have lost hundreds of trees.

First Hours of Sleep the Best.

It has been proved conclusively that the first hours of sleep are deeper than the rest and that with the length the tendency to wake at any noise increases. From this follows the recuperative value of the first hours of deep sleep and the explanation why men of great energy like Napoleon, Frederick the Great and Virchow were completely satisfied with a sleep of from three to four hours.

HOSPITAL METHODS

There are many points of similarity between our big dental offices and hospitals. Our three offices treat from thirty to forty thousand patients each year. This number seems fabulous to a private practitioner.

ELLENVILLE

Ellenville, July 6.—There were two good games of baseball at the Driving Park on July Fourth. The Rosendale-High Falls combination put up a strong game in the morning, winning by a score of 3 to 1 in eleven innings. Crispell and O'Neill were in the points for the visitors, and Wood and Traphagen for Ellenville. It was a tight contest and anybody's contest until the last man was out. In the afternoon Ellenville forged to the front at the start making two runs in the first inning and was never in danger. The visitors went to pieces in the fifth and seventh innings when Herron and St. Traphagen worked the squeeze play, pulling it off on both attempts. It seemed to daze the visitors and runs came in without much effort. Traphagen pitched an excellent game and was well supported by Northup from Napanoch behind the bat. Myers and O'Neill were the battery for Rosendale. The final score was 9 to 2.

Adelbert Brown and family of Brooklyn arrived in town on Friday and went on Saturday to spend a month with Greenfield relatives. Mrs. Brown was before her marriage, Miss May Lefever of Ellenville.

Mrs. Leonard Pickel and son, Master Leonard, Jr., are visiting her mother, Mrs. Robinson at her home on Leurenkill road.

Miss Tillie Hopkins of New York is the guest of Miss Florence Clark. Miss Florence Kelp spent the Fourth and Sunday with friends in Middletown.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Burlison of Butler, N. J., spent the Fourth with Mrs. Burlison's brother, George R. Van Aken and family on Market street.

Michael Sheridan of New York spent the Fourth with his sisters, the Misses Sheridan, on Canal street. Oscar Frelleweh of Elmhurst was the guest of his sister, Mrs. M. B. Reynolds, over the Fourth.

Mrs. O. B. Seaman and Miss Pauline Taylor have arrived from Oberlin, Ohio, for the summer vacation.

J. W. Burr of Brooklyn joined Mrs. Burr at the Hoornbeek home on Hermance street for several days. Mrs. Gould, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Anita Gould, who had been quite ill at Lynbrook, L. I., returned home on Friday. Miss Gould is quite recovered from her illness.

Jesse M. Decker of Kingston spent the Fourth with his niece, Mrs. Charles Delaney, and family on Cape avenue.

Mrs. J. M. Clair has sold her property at Leurenkill, well known as Breeze Lawn, to a Hebrew named Shapito, who takes possession at once.

Gorton's Famous Minstrels, that need no introduction to an Ellenville audience, are to appear at Masonic Theatre on Tuesday evening.

The Parish Aid Society of St. John's Episcopal Church will hold a lawn party on the church grounds Wednesday from four o'clock in the afternoon. Clifton's band will furnish music in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Murray of Brooklyn spent the Fourth and Sunday with Mrs. Murray's aunts, the Misses Sheridan, on Canal street.

Horace Eaton, while returning on Sunday afternoon from the Cornellus Camp at Ulster Heights, and riding with Jansen Hoornbeek, was thrown from the wagon when the horse started suddenly under pressure from the whip. He struck on his face between the wheels and sustained a bad cut over the left eye and other injuries to his face.

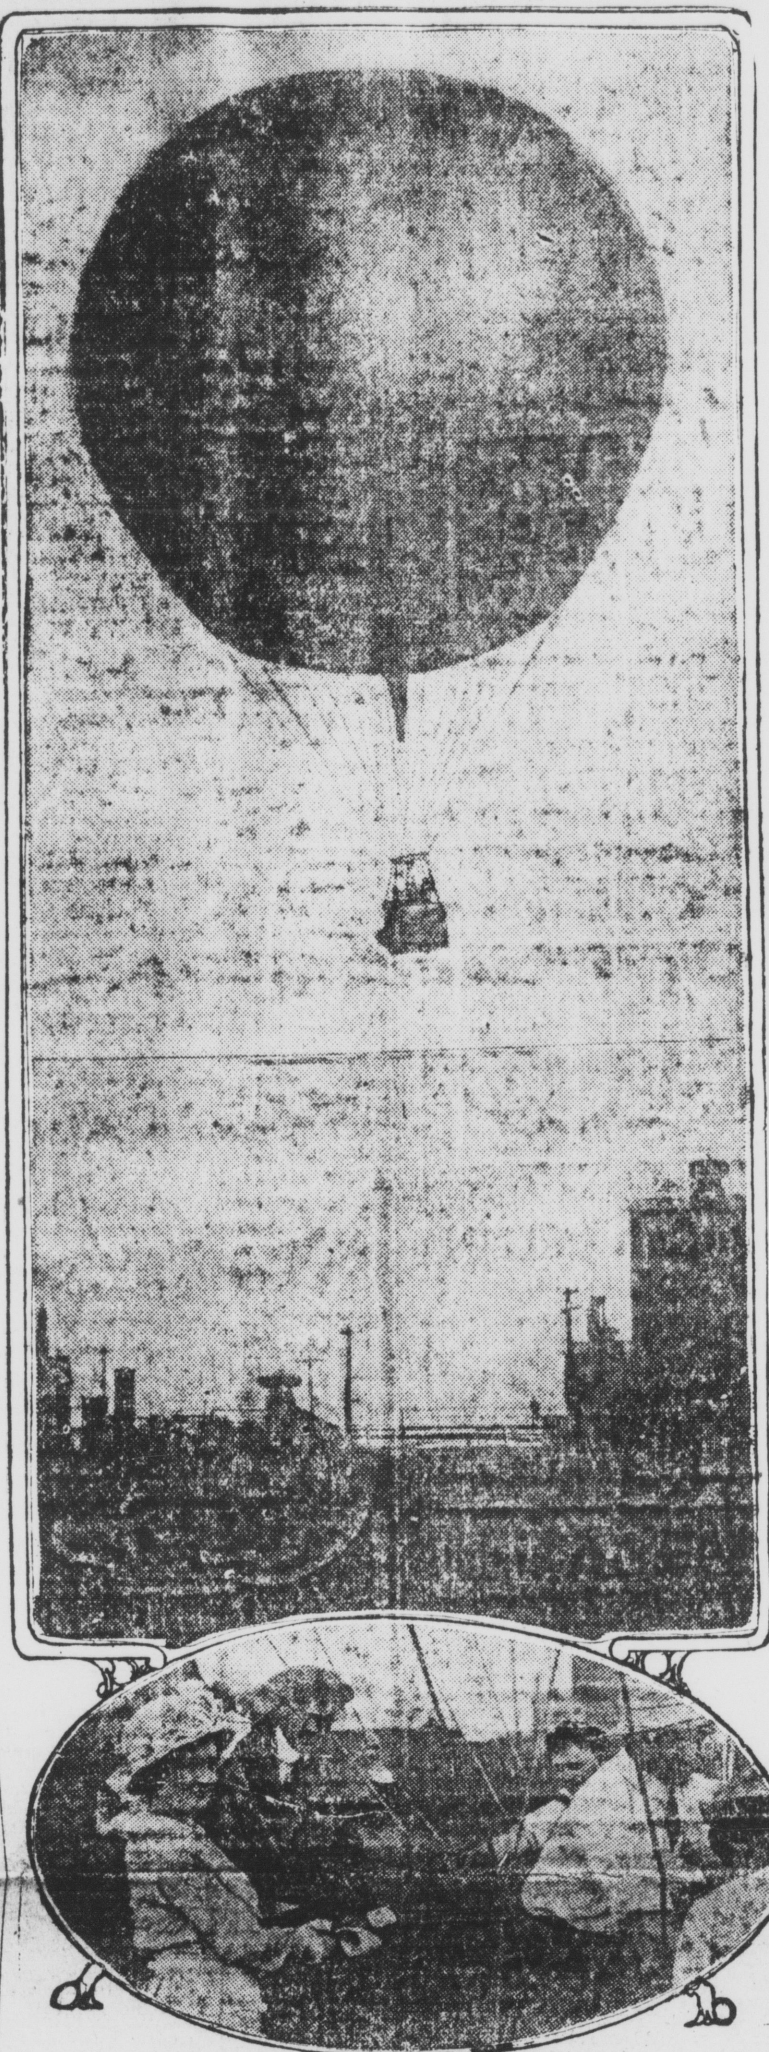

Matthew Snook of Bennington, Vt., formerly a guard at the Napanoch reformatory, has been spending a few days at the Mitchell House. Sunday morning while on a walk to Cragmoor he ran foul of a large rattlesnake, which he dispatched and brought to town as a souvenir of the trip.

Forgetmenot.

"Ah, yes, there are still true and loyal souls in this sad world," murmured the solemn individual in the tortoiseshell glasses. "I used to know a dear girl—it was ten long years ago—and not a year has passed since that she hasn't written me a birthday letter. Always what she writes is about the same: 'Dear Alfred, I can't ever forget, not if I live to be a hundred, this day of all the days in the year. Let me once again wish you long life and happiness with all my heart.' etc."

"Very sweet of the girl," said the stout young man with the amazing waistcoat, "very sweet of her indeed." "Very," replied the solemn individual, "only, you see, she writes that dashed letter to me on a different day every year."—New York Post.

Home Influence.

Our home influence is not a passing but an abiding one, and all-powerful for good or evil, for peace or strife, for happiness or misery. Each separate home has been likened to a central sun around which revolves a happy and united band of warm loving hearts, acting, thinking, rejoicing and sorrowing together. Which member of the family group can say, "I have no influence?" What sorrow or what happiness lies in the power of each!—Selected.

Original Suggestion.

A very pretty way of renewing old furniture in a child's room is to paint it with robin's egg blue enamel. When dry stick on underneath each keyhole in drawers of dresser or chiffonier very small pink-tinted designs of roses, cupids (which one finds on old valentines, postals, etc.) and when well stuck on in place give them a light coat of shellac. The effect is very pretty.

KINGSTON, N. Y., JULY 6, 1914.

The Mexican elections Sunday resulted in "an overwhelming vote of confidence in favor of Gen. Huerta." Of course, Carranza and Villa can get the same kind of endorsements wherever their soldiers are on the ground. In Mexico, as soon as church lets out, the balance of Sunday is spent in witnessing cock-fighting and bull-fighting, and to get out the voters it is necessary to separate them from their pleasures by force or threats. Not one out of a thousand of the common people cares a hoot which bandit is at the head of the government. In one large election district only seven votes were cast yesterday. Yet we have statesmen who are trying to establish our system of government in Mexico. The plan will fail. It would be as easy to train an ox to live on mutton chops.

Official figures show that New York State, which contains only one-tenth of the population of the country, contributes $23,000,000 out of the $71,000,000 collected under the income tax law. In other words, our State is contributing $10,000,000 a year for the benefit of the people of other States. Most of it is distributed by means of the "Pork Barrel" bill. It is next to impossible to secure appropriations for improving the Hudson River, but millions are spent on dredging Mud Creek and erecting public buildings at Hicks Four Corners. The biggest joke in the whole affair is that the Legislature of our own State approved the constitutional amendment which made this injustice possible. The income tax is popular with hosts of people because it is supposed to "soak the rich," but what we have never been able fully to understand is willingness to do the "soaking" accompanied with complacency in letting others get away with the loot. Incidentally, nobody seems to notice that this process of relieving the rich of their money has failed to put a penny in the pockets of the poor, directly or indirectly.

It is with a medley of emotions that the public sees the Fourth of July becoming denatured year by year. Only our older citizens remember the day when processions of "Horribles" and "Terribles," decked out in fantastic garb, paraded the streets. It is but a few years ago that the ushering in of the day with cannon shots began to become distinctly unpopular. There was noise enough last Saturday to distress persons with sensitive nerves, but it was a quiet occasion in comparison with its predecessors. Dangerous explosives have gone out of use to such an extent that accidents resulting from their use were fewer this year than accidents in which automobiles figured. The old-time Fourth of July orator has passed, too. Nobody cares any longer to "twist the British lion's tail." Neither do speakers venture any more to hold up our institutions as absolutely perfect; since experience has shown us their vulnerable points. Thinking people are coming to realize that when our forefathers "licked" King George they took only one little step on the great way. Personal liberty, to attain which so much patriot blood was shed, is in greater danger from fanatics and fools at home than it ever was from any foreign foe. It is fortunate that there is less noise on the day which furnishes us with ever increasing suggestions for hard thinking.

We congratulate the Outlook on having got rid of Colonel Roosevelt as "contributing editor." A chronic office-seeker is too big a load for any newspaper to carry. It is impossible, of course, to imagine the continued successful existence of the Commoner without Bryan, but the cases is not similar to that of the Outlook. Bryan's paper is frankly his personal organ and is designed only for the reading of those who are still so besotted intellectually that they regard him as the perfect flower of statesmanship. The paper has no influence with and is not even read by the general public. The Outlook, on the contrary, has character. It cannot afford to twist facts to suit preconceived theories. Believing that President Wilson was right on the Panama tolls question, it supported him although Roosevelt for political reasons opposed him. The Freeman, although a Republican paper, also supported the President in this matter, and it will always support such policies as it thinks to be right, no matter whether they bear the label of Republicanism or Democracy. Office-seekers cannot afford to have concessions. The experience of the Outlook has been instructive, and there will be few to imitate its experiment.

IS IT TRUE?

(By Our Woman Editor.)

The statement is made that in St. Louis, Mo., there has been an astounding increase in the number of cigarettes sold to women of late; in fact, leading tobacco dealers in that city estimate that within the past six months the sales have exactly doubled over a similar period last year. And they draw the deduction that the impetus has come, not through increased sales to veterans purchasers, but through recruits that are made every day.

The women are not buying the daintily scented and embossed initial variety especially made for the feminine trade, so we are told, but are selecting the packages usually sold to men. And perhaps there is something significant in the fact that they turn to the higher priced Turkish blends—significant only in that it possibly indicates the classes from which the new buyers are recruited.

Indeed, one dealer reports that the women to whom he sells are the wives and daughters of well-known business men in the city, and that they total, on an average, 1,000 cigarettes a day, with the trade ever jumping higher.

Some of them, he says, come in automobiles, and order their supplies without entering the store; some, perhaps, the novices, walk straight up to the magazine rack, slowly select periodicals, then with voices quietly dropped down, request that a few packages of cigarettes be included in the purchases. And others, the veterans, most likely, boldly enter the store, and coolly order their favorite blends, without any attempt at concealment; while a goodly number telephone from hotels and private residences, with the strictest injunctions to have the cigarettes delivered "to me, please, because the maid, you know, is very inquisitive."

And one downtown dealer furnishes the amazing information that girls under eighteen constitute the bulk of his trade among women. One says "amazing," yet in view of the stories that come drifting in, perhaps surprise should have long since passed into certainty.

And what do we think? And what do we say?

At the very start, if we are at all observing and tolerant, we shall pause long enough to remember that it is very easy to be wedded to old standards, so easy that when anything new comes along we are dangerously ready to denounce it as "bad."

And we shall remember that among the innovations that have been pronounced "bad" for women to adopt, many, many have been proven quite the reverse, once a skeptical and a very conventional public has dropped the scales from its eyes. And so we are almost afraid to denounce anything that does not bear the hallmarks of—shall we call it immorality?

But this question of cigarette smoking for women—

It is physically hurtful, aesthetically unbecoming, and if it has a single fine point to its name it is rigidly kept under cover.

And beside—let us leave men a few of the bad old concessions that the ages have granted them, so long as we are only the worse and the more unlovely for the license. Nature did not whisper to the world that men might smoke and women must leave it alone, but that arbitrary something known as Custom spoke up good and loud in the past—and women obeyed. Custom always is unfair when it pleasantly grants its concessions to some and arbitrarily denies them to others; and apparently some women are growing rebellious against the discrimination, but one thinks they are wrong. For in this instance, perhaps unintentionally, Custom was kind to women in withholding a license that is bound to draw from their grace and their softness, as well as their health, and why should they bid for a concession now that has proven only hurtful to men? If men had grown the healthier, the wiser, the better, the happier, for the cigarettes they have consumed during the years, one would be among the first to say—let women be the gainers, too. But one distinctly does not favor a thing that will start women moving backward. And this, without any regard for the status of men in such matters.

Oh, yes; one cheerfully admits that had women been smoking all these years, smoking with their husbands, their brothers and their fathers, quite likely there would be none to say them nay or to question their right to proceed, except on the one ground of health. For familiarity soon brings easy acceptance and sweeps away well-rooted prejudice. But they have not been smoking, and with nothing to gain, everything to lose, by the strange license, why should they try to reach out for that poor brand of "equality?" Men may never drop the habit that has grown with the years until it seems part of their natures—seems so only until one remembers that each little boy of each grown-up man encounters his own sorry period of acquiring the baddish habit. But that is their affair; and one thing for women to remember very consistently is, when copying, to copy only in ways that shall make for all around betterment. And cigarette smoking never yet was known to add to anyone's depth or breadth or beauty of character or to give one little impetus to health.

"I once besought George W. Vanderbilt to give our parishioners an illustrated lecture on his palatial home, Biltmore, but Mr. Vanderbilt was too modest, far too modest, for anything of that sort."

The speaker, a New York clergyman, sighed, smiled and resumed: "Mr. Vanderbilt said that if he tried to lecture on Biltmore he'd feel as vain as the little boy in his first pair of trousers."

"This little boy had one friend whom he greatly admired, and that was the butcher. Accordingly, the morning he first wore his new trousers, the urchin, as soon as the butcher drove up, went out and strutted up and down with his hands in his pockets."

"But the butcher, busily cutting up meat, did not notice his little friend's new rig. The boy strutted about, he did, until he could no longer draw the butcher's eye to his many legs, and then, finally, he pined."

"Mr. Brown, is your horse afraid of trousers?"—New York Tribune.

A story is told of Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany chief, in connection with a Fourth of July celebration at "the Hall." The exercises closed with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner," by the assembled company. It was noticed that the chief didn't join in, and a reporter asked one of Murphy's friends, "Can't the boss sing?"

"Sure," replied the friend. "Why he used to belong to a quartet."

"Then why doesn't he sing the national anthem?" inquired the reporter.

"Dunno," was the reply "but I guess he doesn't want to commit himself."

From His Viewpoint.

Prof. Walter Hough, curator of ethnology in the National Museum, tells about a Chinese laundryman whom he met during one of his trips to the far west.

Wun Lung was trying to explain something about the president and was at a loss to know by what title the chief executive should be called. He had heard the name of Great Father bestowed upon the head of the nation; but Prof. Hough did not comprehend the Chinaman's meaning when he so alluded to Mr. Wilson. Wun Lung jabbered and Hough wondered till at last a bright thought struck the celestial.

"I mean man down in White House at Washington what you call this," exclaimed Wun Lung at last in triumph. And to illustrate his meaning he dug behind a Josh image on his shelf of punk sticks, dragging out an Episcopal prayer book and opening at the Lord's prayer. "Here what I mean—Our Father, who art in heaven," that what Wun Lung meant—all same head man in Washington."

KINGSTON, N. Y., JULY 6, 1914.

The Mexican elections Sunday resulted in "an overwhelming vote of confidence in favor of Gen. Huerta." Of course, Carranza and Villa can get the same kind of endorsements wherever their soldiers are on the ground. In Mexico, as soon as church lets out, the balance of Sunday is spent in witnessing cock-fighting and bull-fighting, and to get out the voters it is necessary to separate them from their pleasures by force or threats. Not one out of a thousand of the common people cares a hoot which hand it is at the head of the government. In one large election district only seven votes were cast yesterday. Yet we have statesmen who are trying to establish our system of government in Mexico. The plan will fail. It would be as easy to train an ox to live on mutton chops.

Official figures show that New York State, which contains only one-tenth of the population of the country, contributes $23,000,000 out of the $71,000,000 collected under the income tax law. In other words, our State is contributing $16,000,000 a year for the benefit of the people of other States. Most of it is distributed by means of the "Pork Barrel" bill. It is next to impossible to secure appropriations for improving the Hudson River, but millions are spent on dredging Mud Creek and erecting public buildings at Hicks Four Corners. The biggest joke in the whole affair is that the Legislature of our own State approved the constitutional amendment which made this injustice possible. The income tax is popular with hosts of people because it is supposed to "soak the rich," but what we have never been able fully to understand is willingness to do the "soaking" accompanied with complacency in letting others get away with the loot. Incidentally, nobody seems to notice that this process of relieving the rich of their money has failed to put a penny in the pockets of the poor, directly or indirectly.

It is with a medley of emotions that the public sees the Fourth of July becoming denatured year by year. Only our older citizens remember the day when processions of "Horribles" and "Terribles," decked out in fantastic garb, paraded the streets. It is but a few years ago that the ushering in of the day with cannon shots began to become distinctly unpopular. There was noise enough last Saturday to distress persons with sensitive nerves, but it was a quiet occasion in comparison with its predecessors. Dangerous explosives have gone out of use to such an extent that accidents resulting from their use were fewer this year than accidents in which automobiles figured. The old-time Fourth of July orator has passed, too. Nobody cares any longer to "twist the British lion's tail." Neither do speakers venture any more to hold up our institutions as absolutely perfect; since experience has shown us their vulnerable points. Thinking people are coming to realize that when our forefathers "licked" King George they took only one little step on the great way. Personal liberty, to attain which so much patriot blood was shed, is in greater danger from fanatics and fools at home than it ever was from any foreign foe. It is fortunate that there is less noise on the day which furnishes us with ever increasing suggestions for hard thinking.

We congratulate the Outlook on having got rid of Colonel Roosevelt as "contributing editor." A chronic office-seeker is too big a load for any newspaper to carry. It is impossible, of course, to imagine the continued successful existence of the Commoner without Bryan, but the cases is not similar to that of the Outlook. Bryan's paper is frankly his personal organ and is designed only for the reading of those who are still so besotted intellectually that they regard him as the perfect flower of statesmanship. The paper has no influence with and is not even read by the general public. The Outlook, on the contrary, has character. It cannot afford to twist facts to suit preconceived theories. Believing that President Wilson was right on the Panama tolls question, it supported him although Roosevelt for political reasons opposed him. The Freeman, although a Republican paper, also supported the President in this matter, and it will always support such policies as it thinks to be right, no matter whether they bear the label of Republicanism or Democracy. Office-seekers cannot afford to have consciences. The experience of the Outlook has been instructive, and there will be few to imitate its experiment.

IS IT TRUE?

The statement is made that in St. Louis, Mo., there has been an astounding increase in the number of cigarettes sold to women of late; in fact, leading tobacco dealers in that city estimate that within the past six months the sales have exactly doubled over a similar period last year. And they draw the deduction that the impetus has come, not through increased sales to veterans purchasers, but through recruits that are made every day.

The women are not buying the daintily scented and embossed initial variety especially made for the feminine trade, so we are told, but are selecting the packages usually sold to men. And perhaps there is something significant in the fact that they turn to the higher priced Turkish blends—significant only in that it possibly indicates the classes from which the new buyers are recruited.

Indeed, one dealer reports that the women to whom he sells are the wives and daughters of well-known business men in the city, and that they total, on an average, 1,000 cigarettes a day, with the trade ever jumping higher.

Some of them, he says, come in automobiles, and order their supplies without entering the store; some, perhaps, the novices, walk straight up to the magazine rack, slowly select periodicals, then with voices quietly dropped down, request that a few packages of cigarettes be included in the purchases. And others, the veterans, most likely, hold-ly enter the store, and coolly order their favorite blends, without any attempt at concealment; while a goodly number telephone from hotels and private residences, with the strictest injunctions to have the cigarettes delivered "to me, please, because the maid, you know, is very inquisitive."

And one downtown dealer furnishes the amazing information that girls under eighteen constitute the bulk of his trade among women. One says "amazing," yet in view of the stories that come drifting in, perhaps surprise should have long since passed into certainty.

And what do we think? And what do we say? At the very start, if we are at all observing and tolerant, we shall pause long enough to remember that it is very easy to be wedded to old standards, so easy that when anything new comes along we are dangerously ready to denounce it as "bad."

And we shall remember that among the innovations that have been pronounced "bad" for women to adopt, many, many have been proven quite the reverse, once a skeptical and a very conventional public has dropped the scales from its eyes. And so we are almost afraid to denounce anything that does not bear the hallmarks of—shall we call it immorality?

But this question of cigarette smoking for women—It is physically hurtful, aesthetically unbecoming, and if it has a single fine point to its name it is rigidly kept under cover.

And beside—let us leave men a few of the bad old concessions that the ages have granted them, so long as we are only the worse and the more unlovely for the license. Nature did not whisper to the world that men might smoke and women must leave it alone, but that arbitrary something known as Custom spoke up good and loud in the past—and women obeyed. Custom always is unfair when it pleasantly grants its concessions to some and arbitrarily denies them to others; and apparently some women are growing rebellious against the discrimination, but one thinks they are wrong. For in this instance, perhaps unintentionally, Custom was kind to women in withholding a license that is bound to draw from their grace and their softness, as well as their health, and why should they bid for a concession now that has proven only hurtful to men? If men had grown the healthier, the wiser, the better, the happier, for the cigarette, they have consumed during the years, one would be among the first to say—let women be the gainers, too. But one distinctly does not favor a thing that will start women moving backward.

FOURTH OF JULY SANE AND LIVELY

There Was Something Doing All Day
Long and the Exercises Were Enjoyed by Thousands of Home
Folks and Visitors.

With the reading of the Declaration of Independence twice, two sets
of exercises, a parade, field day
sports and the shooting of George
B. Main of St. James street, who was hit accidentally in the shoulder by
a woman who aimed at a target at Miller's shooting gallery at Kingston Point Park, Kingston enjoyed an
old fashioned Fourth of July.

The day's celebration brought
hundreds of visitors to Kingston and
everyone had a good time except Mr.
Main and the woman who shot him
by mistake. The day was in every way safe and sane, and there were
no accidents from firecrackers or fireworks. The automobile traffic in town was the heaviest in several
years, and although there was more
reckless driving than usual, the automobiles escaped accidents.

The day's celebration really began
at midnight with the salute to the
new born day by various patriotic
citizens who had more firecrackers
than regard for their neighbors'
slumber. The noise was only sporadic in different neighborhoods, and after the celebrants were sure that Independence Day had been actually
ushered in, they went to bed, and the police were able to patrol the streets
in safety.

The second event of importance
was the raising of the flag at Kingston Academy green at 4:30 o'clock
in the morning by George F. Kier-
stead, janitor of the academy, and
Major William Vallette, both of
whom fought for the flag in the battles of the Civil War and who have
regularly, for many years, attended
to its raising at daybreak on the Fourth. There was no loud noise to accompany the flag-raising at that
hour of the morning and no
speeches, either prepared or otherwise.

At 9:30 o'clock in the morning a
large crowd assembled at the city
hall to attend the patriotic exercises
held there under the auspices of Kingston Council, No. 275, Knights
of Columbus. The exercises were preceded by a concert by Muller's Band.
The exercises opened with the in-
vocation by the Rev. John J. Hickey,
pastor of St. Mary's Church, and after the singing of America by
school children, under the direction
of Prof. William H. Rieser, Dr. W.
H. Connelly, president of the common council, was introduced and
presided in the absence of Mayor
Canfield from Kingston. Dr. Con-
nelly made a brief address, and was
followed by Recorder William H.
Grogan, who read the Declaration of Independence.

Addresses were made by ex-Mayor Roscoe Irwin on
"The Old and the New," and by Dr.
John G. Coyle of New York city on
"Patriotism and the Flag." The addresses were eloquent and the
speakers were loudly applauded.
The singing of "Columbia the Gem
of the Ocean," and the "Star
Spangled Banner," by the children.
The benediction was by the Rev. Dr.
J. L. Leeper, pastor of the First
Dutch Church.

In the afternoon patriotic exercises were held at Kingston Academy green under the auspices of
Washington Camp, No. 2, Patriotic
Order Sons of America, and these
exercises were also attended by a large crowd. Francis C. Merritt
presided and introduced the speakers. The invocation was by the Rev. George M. Cranston, pastor of
the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, and a welcome to the visiting organizations was delivered on behalf of the city by City Treasurer
Floyd W. Powell. Addresses were made by Andrew Wright Lent of Highland, State Councilor of the Junior Order United American Mechanics; A. Edwin Kappauf of New York city, state president of the
Patriotic Order Sons of America,
who spoke on "Patriotism;" Jacob
Mineur, of New York city, state
president of the Red Men, and Superintendent S. R. Shear of Poughkeepsie, formerly superintendent of schools of this city. A warm welcome was given to all the speakers,
whose addresses were received with applause. The Declaration of Independence was read by Herbert C.
Meyers and the addresses were interpreted by solos by Miss Florence Bonestell and Mrs. Charles Braley, and selections by Muller's Band. The benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Dr. R. C. Dodds, pastor of the Eimendorf Street Presbyterian Church.

The afternoon exercises were preceded by a parade of different local
and visiting organizations, about
1,500 men being in line. The guests
of honor in the parade were Grand
Army Veterans, who rode in automobiles and carriages and were applauded along the line of march,
which was from Broadway at Albany avenue along Broadway to Delaware avenue, from which point
the parade counter-marched to the place of beginning, where the organizations were disbanded. Several organizations of the Patriotic Order Sons of America, Knights of Pythias, Wawarsing Tribe of Red
Men and Boy Scouts took part in
the parade. The members of Saug-
erties Uniform Rank Knights of Pythias, made a fine appearance and
the Knights were given applause repeatedly along the line of march.
They excelled in drill maneuvers
and in every way made one of the
best showings of any organization
that has paraded in Kingston in a long time. The Saugerties Knights
were headed by the Barmann Drum
Corps, which also came in for a good
share of attention.

A large crowd attended the field
day sports held at the Athletic field in the afternoon by the Knights of Columbus. There was a baseball game between the Kingston and Newburgh Knights, which was won by a score of 7 to 6.

The summary follows:
3 base hit—Martin. 2 base hit—
Jock. Sacrifice hits—Lang and Nolan. Stolen bases—Reilly, Murphy, Ryan and Lang. Struck out by Daly, 11. By Culliton, 17. Bases on balls—Off Daly, 4. Off Culliton, 9.

Umpire David Freer. Time of game
2 hours 15 minutes.
Score by innings:
Newburgh—6 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—7
Kingston—1 0 0 1 0 4 0 0 0 0—6

WHY ROAST THE MOVIES?

Why Beautiful Pictures and Missionary Work is no Novelty.

Kingston, July 6, 1914.

To the Editor of The Freeman:
Are we living in a free country or
are we not? What a stir over the beautiful pictures which have been exhibited in the United States for the past year, and which are given
through the love and generosity of
those terrible "Russellites." If O. I.
W. went to Rome, he wouldn't be
obliged to kiss the pope's great toe;
neither is he obliged to view the pictures while he is in the same town
with them. I can imagine what
would have happened if the Catholics
had made such an outcry over the
very excellent pictures and lectures
on Luther given recently in a local
church!

Missionaries are forced into every country on the globe to impound
their hell-fire and eternal damnation
theory, and mite boxes and tacked up
in nearly every home to help the good cause along. But when one poor man
through fasting, study and prayer has
harmonized the Bible into a beautiful
whole, and given comfort to those
who have looked for it in vain
through orthodox (?) teaching, the
cry goes up "Crucify him!"

I would recommend that O. I. W.
take his Bible (if he owns one), wipe
the dust from its covers and carefully
read the 7th chapter of Matthew,
every word. Then after letting that soak in, if he will turn to the 14th
chapter of Romans and peruse that
as carefully, we will have no more
vituperative letters.

FAIR PLAY.

Crescent A. C. Defeats Rosendale.

The Crescent A. C. journeyed to Rosendale the Fourth of July to play
a double-header with the fast team
of that place. The Crescents won
the first game which was very fast
and exciting by a score of 9 to 6.
The game was replete with lightning
plays by both teams. Leininger,
the Crescent's crack twirler, was on
the slab and delivered the goods in old time form. Baylor, who was on the receiving end, was injured in the sixth inning. He was replaced by Bewer. The battery for Rosendale
was Brundage, Hermance and O'Neill. The second game lasted but four innings as the players had to leave in time to catch the train. The battery for the Crescents were Soper
and Bewer, and the battery for Rosendale was Hermance and O'Neill.
A large crowd was present at both
games. Sunday afternoon the Crescent A. C. were defeated by Wilbur
on the Wilbur grounds. The Cres-
cents besides playing their opponents, also had to play the umpire.
Maines and Baylor were in the
points for the Crescents, while Mox-en and Jenks did the work for Wilbur. Next Sunday the Crescents
will play the fast Wilson team on the Busholt grounds.

Manor Stars Won.
The Manor Stars defeated the Cen-trals in a fast game of baseball on Sunday afternoon by a score of 5 to
7. They will play the same team
next Sunday on their grounds at Downs Park. They would also like
to arrange games with any other
team in the city whose players are
between the ages of fifteen and eighteen years.

You Are Invited.

Avenue excursion to Albany on Wednesday of this week by steamer
Mary Powell. Plenty of time to see tions. Fare only 50 cents for adults,

Charles' Aid Meeting.

be a special meeting of the Ulster County Branch of the S. C. A. A. to consider the resolution on the death
of Miss Mary I. Forsyth. The meeting will be held at the court house
and all members are requested to be present.

ing at very small cost, if you go with
the Clinton Avenue and Trinity M. E.
Sunday school to Albany by steamer
Mary Powell on Wednesday of this week. Round trip for adults 50 cents. Children under 12 years for

Strange Fate of a Gravedigger.
A gravedigger named James Ham-
bleton was buried alive in a grave at
St. Stephen's churchyard, Andershaw, Ashton-under-Lyne, the other day. He had been digging a grave and was getting out when he fell backward and
a large portion of the sides collapsed
upon him. A conductor on a passing tram car who saw the man's legs in
the air, ran to the spot and found the
gravedigger buried, head foremost.
The man had ceased to struggle and
was dead when extricated.—London Times.

Pearls and Rubies.
Pearls may be found nearly any-
where in waters inhabited by oysters
or mussels. Some of Canada's fresh
water pearls have a fairly high value.
The Mississippi has also yielded valuable pearls. Rubies have usually
come from the East—India or Ceylon
—though South America has furnished
some good specimens. Oil wells are really excavations into underlying
lakes or "fields" of petroleum, generally found on this continent just above
the Trenton limestone formation.

FOURTH OF JULY SANE AND LIVELY

There Was Something Doing All Day
Long and the Exercises Were Enjoyed by Thousands of Home
Folks and Visitors.

With the reading of the Declaration of Independence twice, two sets
of exercises, a parade, field day
sports and the shooting of George
B. Main of St. James street, who was
hit accidentally in the shoulder by
a woman who aimed at a target at Miller's shooting gallery at Kingston Point Park, Kingston enjoyed an
old fashioned Fourth of July.

The day's celebration brought
hundreds of visitors to Kingston and
everyone had a good time except Mr.
Main and the woman who shot him
by mistake. The day was in every
way safe and sane, and there were
no accidents from fireworks, or fireworks. The automobile traffic in
town was the heaviest in several
years, and although there was more
reckless driving than usual, the au-
tomobils escaped accidents.

The day's celebration really began
at midnight with the salute to the
new born day by various patriotic
citizens who had more fireworks than regard for their neighbors' slumber. The noise was only sporadic in different neighborhoods, and
after the celebrants were sure that Independence Day had been actually
upheld in, they went to bed, and the police were able to patrol the streets
in safety.

The second event of importance
was the raising of the flag at Kingston Academy green at 4:30 o'clock
in the morning by George F. Kier-
stead, janitor of the academy, and
Major William Vallette, both of
whom fought for the flag in the battles of the Civil War and who have
regularly, for many years, attended
to its raising at daybreak on the Fourth. There was no loud noise to accompany the flag-raising at that
hour of the morning and no
speeches, either prepared or otherwise.

At 9:30 o'clock in the morning a
large crowd assembled at the city
hall to attend the patriotic exercises
held there under the auspices of
Kingston Council, No. 275, Knights
of Columbus. The exercises were preceded by a concert by Muller's Band.
The exercises opened with the in-
vocation by the Rev. John J. Hickey,
pastor of St. Mary's Church, and
after the singing of America by
school children, under the direction
of Prof. William H. Rieker, Dr. W.
H. Connelly, president of the community council, was introduced and
presided in the absence of Mayor
Canfield from Kingston. Dr. Con-
nelly made a brief address, and was
followed by Recorder William H.
Grosan, who read the Declaration of Independence. Addresses were made by ex-Mayor Roscoe Irwin on
"The Old and the New," and by Dr.
John G. Coyle of New York city on
"Patriotism and the Flag." The
addresses were eloquent and the audience was loudly applauded.
The speeches were interrupted by
the singing of "Columbia the Gem
of the Ocean" and the "Star
Spangled Banner," by the children.
The benediction was by the Rev. Dr.
J. L. Leeper, pastor of the First
Dutch Church.

In the afternoon patriotic exer-
cises were held at Kingston Academy green under the auspices of
Washington Camp, No. 2, Patriotic
Order Sons of America, and these
exercises were also attended by a
large crowd. Francis C. Merritt
presided and introduced the speakers. The invocation was by the
Rev. George M. Cranston, pastor of
the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, and a welcome to the visiting organizations was delivered on behalf of the city by City Treasurer
Floyd W. Powell. Addresses were
made by Andrew Wright, Lent of Highland, State Councilor of the Junior Order United American Mechanics; A. Edwin Kapfau of New York city, state president of the
Patriotic Order Sons of America,
who spoke on "Patriotism;" Jacob
Mineur, of New York city, state
president of the Red Men, and Superintendent S. R. Shear of Pough-
keepsie, formerly superintendent of
schools of this city. A warm welcome was given to all the speakers,
whose addresses were received with
applause. The Declaration of Independence was read by Herbert C.
Meyers and the addresses were interrupted by solos by Florence Bonesteel and Mrs. Charles Braley,
and selections by Muller's Band. The
benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Dr. R. C. Dadds, pastor of the Elmwood Street Presbyterian Church.

The afternoon exercises were preceded by a parade of different local
and visiting organizations, about
1,500 men being in line. The guests
of honor in the parade were Grand
Army Veterans, who rode in auto-
mobiles and carriages and were applauded along the line of march,
which was from Broadway to Albany avenue along Broadway to Delaware avenue, from which point
the parade counter-marched to the
place of beginning, where the organizations were disbanded. Several organizations of the Patriotic Order Sons of America, Knights of Pythias, Wawarising Tribe of Red
Men and Boy Scouts took part in
the parade. The members of Saug-
erties Uniform Rank Knights of Pythias made a fine appearance and
the Knights were given applause repeatedly along the line of march.
They excelled in drill maneuvers
and in every way made one of the
best showings of any organization
that has paraded in Kingston in a long time. The Saugerties Knights
were headed by the Barmann Drum
Corps, which also came in for a good
share of attention.

A large crowd attended the field
day sports held at the Athletic

of Columbus. There was a base-

WHY ROAST THE MOVIES?

They're Beautiful Pictures and Missionary Work is no Novelty.

Kingston, July 6, 1914.

To the Editor of The Freeman:
Are we living in a free country or
are we not? What a stir over the
beautiful pictures which have been
exhibited in the United States for the
past year, and which are given
through the love and generosity of these terrible "Russellites." If O. I.
W. went to Rome, he wouldn't be
obliged to kiss the pope's great toe;
neither is he obliged to view the pictures while he is in the same town
with them. I can imagine what
would have happened if the Catholics
had made such an outcry over the
very excellent pictures and lectures
on Luther given recently in a local
church.

Missionaries are forced into every country on the globe to impose their hell-fire and eternal damnation
theory, and mite boxes and tacked up
in nearly every home to help the good
cause along. But when one poor man
through fasting, study and prayer has
harmonized the Bible into a beautiful
whole, and given comfort to those
who have looked for it in vain
through orthodox (?) teaching, the
cry goes up "Crucify him!"
I would recommend that O. I. W.
take his Bible (if he owns one), wipe
the dust from its covers and carefully
read the 7th chapter of Matthew,
every word. Then after letting that
soak in, if he will turn to the 14th
chapter of Romans and peruse that
as carefully, we will have no more
vituperative letters.

FAIR PLAY.

Crescent A. C. Defeats Rosendale.

The Crescent A. C. journeyed to
Rosendale the Fourth of July to play
a double-header with the fast team
of that place. The Crescents won
the first game which was very fast
and exciting by a score of 9 to 6.
The game was replete with lightning
plays by both teams. Leininger,
the Crescent's crack twirler, was on
the slab and delivered the goods in
old time form. Baylor, who was on
the receiving end, was injured in the sixth inning. He was replaced by Bewer. The battery for Rosendale
was Brundage, Hermance and O'Neill. The second game lasted but
four innings as the players had to leave in time to catch the train. The
battery for the Crescents were Soper
and Bewer, and the battery for Ro-sendale was Hermance and O'Neill.
A large crowd was present at both
games. Sunday afternoon the Crescent A. C. were defeated by Wilbur
on the Wilbur grounds. The Cres-
cents besides playing their opponents, also had to play the umpire,
Maines and Baylor were in the
points for the Crescents, while Moxon and Jenks did the work for Wil-
bur. Next Sunday the Crescents
will play the fast Wilson team on the Bushlot grounds.

Manor Stars Won.

The Manor Stars defeated the Con-trails in a fast game of baseball on Sunday afternoon by a score of 5 to
2. They will play the same team
next Sunday on their grounds at Downs Park. They would also like
to arrange games with any other
team in the city whose players are
between the ages of fifteen and eighteen years.

Strange Fate of a Gravedigger.

A gravedigger named James Ham-
bleton was buried alive in a grave at
St. Stephen's churchyard, Andershaw, Ashton-under-Lyme, the other day. He had been digging a grave and was getting out when he fell backward and
a large portion of the sides collapsed
upon him. A conductor on a passing
tram car who saw the man's legs in
the air, ran to the spot and found the
gravedigger buried, head foremost.
The man had ceased to struggle and
was dead when extricated.—London

Pearls and Rubies.
Pearls may be found nearly any-
where in waters inhabited by oysters
or mussels. Some of Canada's fresh
water pearls have a fairly high value.
The Mississippi has also yielded valuable pearls. Rubies have usually
come from the East—India or Ceylon
—though South America has furnished
some good specimens. Oil wells are
really excavations into underlying
lakes or "fields" of petroleum, generally found on this continent just above
the Trenton limestone formation.

AUTOMOBILES COLLIDE.

Electric Light Shaken Down and Broken Glass Cut Passengers.

A collision between the auto truck of A. Terpening, the Broadway confectioner and ice cream manufacturer, and a five passenger Ford car at the corner of Main and Fair streets Sunday morning was followed by the swerving of the auto truck into one of the electric light poles at Burgeville's corner, with the result that the truck was badly damaged and the base of the electric light pole was broken. The arm of the pole, sustaining the electric light, was jarred loose and the globe crashed through the top of the truck, inflicting slight injuries on several young boys who were inside.

The Ford car was owned and driven by Sherman Short of O'Neil street. With him were his parents, Mrs. Horace Simmons, an aunt, and a lady friend of his aunt from Chatham, Columbia county. They were coming along Main street from the direction of Clinton avenue and Short says he was nearly in the center of the street. He says he blew his horn as he approached the corner, and at the time was traveling not to exceed five miles an hour. As he started to cross Main street he saw the auto truck bearing down on him, and to avoid being hit squarely in the center he turned the machine suddenly and swerved into Fair street, in the direction of Pearl street. The auto truck struck his car, however, and he crashed into the curb. His right forward wheel was smashed and the mud guard was dented.

The auto truck was driven by F. K. Mooney, and inside the truck were Kenneth Roca, the seven year old grandson of Mr. Terpening, and Willie Halloran, 15 years old. The auto truck had been passing down Fair street toward Main at a speed of about 12 miles. As the car passed the Elks' Club, it seemed to be operating badly. The driver expected to turn into Main street, and intended to make a long turn. He noticed the Ford just as he was about to make the turn, and saw that he could not avoid hitting the car. He turned the wheel so as to send the car straight ahead down Fair street, the same direction that Short had decided to take. As he struck the Ford car he pulled the car over too far toward the gutter, and the front of the truck crashed into the electric light pole.

The force of the collision with the pole jarred off the arm that holds the light, and the light itself crashed down through the top of the truck. Both boys were cut by the flying glass. They were carried to the office of Dr. E. H. Loughran, and later were attended by Dr. Mark O'Meara. They were not badly injured.

The impact of the collision made a noise that could be heard for several blocks and was plainly heard in the nearby churches.

MONTICELLO RACES.

More Than 5,000 in Attendance on Saturday Afternoon.

Ellenville, July 6.—About four hundred went from Ellenville to attend the Fourth of July celebration at Monticello. It was a beautiful day at the Sullivan county capital and there were all of 6,000 visitors coming by special trains, autos and all kinds of vehicles. The firemen's parade and decorated vehicle parade took place in the morning. At 12:30 Hon. William D. Cunningham of Ellenville made a patriotic address on a platform at the Broadway entrance to the public park. More than five thousand people attended the races in the afternoon. The heats were well contested and very interesting throughout. The following classes were run off promptly by the judges: 2:24 trot, purse, $200.—Winners: Flora H., b. m., D. B. Murray, Chester, first; Ruth M., b. m., W. C. Goff, Monticello, second; Guy Direct, b. s., M. H. Wesemer, Ellenville, third; Nettie Potter, b. m., fourth. Best time, 2:29 1/4. Colt race, purse silver cup—Billy Dodge, b. g., S. Kushner, Napanoch, first; Madeline Jest, b. m., F. H. Osborn, Monticello, second; Daisy Bellow, b. m., James Heaney, Monticello, third; Estelle Wilkes, H. Schimmer, Wurtsboro, fourth. During the races four men from the crowd moved out and in front of one of the racing horses being driven by John Wyncoop of Ellenville and two of the men were badly injured. The bands gave a concert in the park in the evening and then followed a magnificent display of fireworks provided by the committee at a cost of $200. All of the business places in the village and many private residences were very handsomely decorated.

Motorcyclist Hit Automobile.

Mr. Halliday of Wallkill was driving his handsome automobile two-passenger car down Canal street in Ellenville Sunday afternoon at 5:15. At the corner of Market street a motorcycle, driven by W. H. Bates of Harrisburg, Pa., dashed into the rear wheel of the car. Bates was thrown heavily to the ground and his forward wheel wrecked. He was badly shaken up but not seriously injured. Mr. Bates was mortoring to Vermont to spend his vacation. He was compelled to lay over at the Wayside Inn for repairs. Mr. Halliday although not at fault for the accident, generously contributed $25 to help defray the expenses of a new wheel.

Crispell House Burned.

The house on the Crispell farm along the Hurley mountain road, which is owned by the state, about a mile from Hurley village, was destroyed by fire Saturday night. The house had been occupied by a family named Scully, who had moved away several days before, and the house was vacant at the time of the fire.

HEIR TO $100,000.000 IN 90 HORSE-POWER AUTOMOBILE.

Vinson Walsh McLean, the eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. McLean, is here seen trying to operate an automobile. "The $100,000.000 baby," and his two playmates, Shirley Carter, of Warrenton, Va., and the little negro boy, who will become Vinson's valet, are having happy days at Newport, R. I., where they are spending the summer. "Jack," the little negro boy is the only colored person allowed on the beach when they go in for a swim.

Taken from in front of Dr. Carman's home at Freeport, L. I. The arrow at the left indicates the window through which the shot was fired that killed Mrs. Bailey. "A" indicates the door to Dr. Carman's office, entrance used by Mrs. Bailey when she came to consult the physician. In the office was installed the horn of the transmitter of the dictograph. "B" indicates the room occupied by Mrs. Carman. It was in this room that she would listen to all conversations in the doctor's office by wires connected with the instrument there and the receiver in her desk. She says she was in this room when the shooting occurred. The wires were all laid inside of the residence.

The origin of the fire is unknown but it probably was incendiary. The farm has been owned for some time by the state of New York. Two years ago the Ulster County Fish and Game Protective Association endeavored to have the state conservation commission establish a game farm there, but the project failed of accomplishment.

George Main Accidentally Shot.

George B. Main, who was in charge of Miller's shooting gallery at Kingston Point Park on Saturday evening, was shot in the shoulder by a young woman patron. The injured man bled profusely and the blood stained only after a taxi cab had been summoned to convey him to Dr. Frank Keator's office. Main is doing nicely and will recover rapidly unless blood poisoning sets in. The woman was an excursionist from Brooklyn and fainted when she saw the blood flowing from the wound. She was quickly revived and went to New York with her male companion. The shooting was regarded as purely accidental as she knew nothing about the mechanism of the rifle.

Another Tie at Tennis.

The Colonial Tennis Club of this city, played their second match set with the Catskill tennis team on Saturday afternoon at Catskill. The double sets were played by Harry Dodge and Fred Hall, Harry Ensign and Joseph Fowler, Fred Van Buren and Newton Fessenden. The singles were played by Dodge, Ensign and Van Buren. The one set of doubles played by Dodge and Hall was won by the Colonial team and the singles played by Ensign and Dodge. The third match will be played later in the season.

Tennis at Hurley.

Patriotic Services.

Anniversary services appropriate to the Fourth of July were held on Sunday evening in the Spring Street German Lutheran Church. The services were in English and included a musical program appropriate to the occasion. The Young Mannerchor sang selections. Albert Salzmann sang a tenor solo. The topic of Pastor Schmidt's sermon was "The Hand of God in the History of Our Country," showing by the facts of history how God made and kept us one nation. The service was well attended.

Moving Pictures at Eddyville.

George F. Schumann has arranged a series of Saturday night moving picture shows to be held at Schumann Park opposite his hotel at Eddyville on Saturday evenings during the summer. An up-to-date machine has been secured and a competent operator will be in charge.

Automobile Took a Bath.

An automobile owned by Thomas Scott of New York ran off the tow path in front of George Schumann's hotel at Eddyville on Saturday and went into the canal. It was dragged out by horses and will be able to run in a short time. Not much damage was done. Nobody was in the machine at the time and it is thought the owner forgot to apply the brakes when he left the car standing in Schumann's park at that place.

Canoeists Were Upset.

Two young men forming a cruising party from New York, who were out in a canoe off Port Ewen on Saturday afternoon, were thrown into the river when the swells from the steamer Reseller struck their craft. A boat was put out from the steamboat and the men were carried to Kingston Point where they were cared for at the Rondout Yacht Clubs house. Their names could not be learned. But for the vigilance of the crew of the big boat the men would doubtless have been drowned.

Automobile Destroyed by Fire.

The automobile of William Van Bramer, Jr., was destroyed by fire on the Saugerties road on Saturday night shortly before midnight. A leak in a pipe conveying gasoline to the cylinders allowed the gas to take fire and in a second the car was enveloped in flames. Mr. Van Bramer and members of his party, aided by other passing automobilists, threw dirt on the flames but were unable to extinguish them. The car was an E. M. F. and was insured for $200.

The house on the Crispell farm along the Hurley mountain road, which was owned by the state, about a mile from Hurley village, was destroyed by fire Saturday night. The house had been occupied by a family named Crispell, who had moved away several days before, and the house was vacant at the time of the fire.

HEIR TO $100,000.000 IN 90 HORSE-POWER AUTOMOBILE.

Vinson Walsh McLean, the eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. McLean, is here seen trying to operate an automobile. "The $100,000.000 baby," and his two playmates, Shirley Carter, of Warrenton, Va., and the little negro boy, who will become Vinson's valet, are having happy days at Newport, R. I., where they are spending the summer. "Jack," the little negro boy is the only colored person allowed on the beach when they go in for a swim.

Taken from in front of Dr. Carman's home at Freeport, L. I. The arrow at the left indicates the window through which the shot was fired that killed Mrs. Bailey. "A" indicates the door to Dr. Carman's office, entrance used by Mrs. Bailey when she came to consult the physician. In the office was installed the horn of the transmitter of the dictograph. "E" indicates the room occupied by Mrs. Carman. It was in this room that she would listen to all conversations in the doctor's office by wires connected with the instrument there and the receiver in her desk. She says she was in this room when the shooting occurred. The wires were all laid inside of the residence.

The origin of the fire is unknown but it probably was incendiary. The farm has been owned for some time by the state of New York. Two years ago the Ulster County Fish and Game Protective Association endeavored to have the state conservation commission establish a game farm there, but the project failed of accomplishment.

George Main Accidentally Shot.

George B. Main, who was in charge of Miller's shooting gallery at Kingston Point Park on Saturday evening, was shot in the shoulder by a young woman patron. The injured man bled profusely and the blood stained only after a taxi cab had been summoned to convey him to Dr. Frank Keator's office. Main is doing nicely and will recover rapidly unless blood poisoning sets in. The woman was an excursionist from Brooklyn and fainted when she saw the blood flowing from the wound. She was quickly revived and went to New York with her male companion. The shooting was regarded as purely accidental as she knew nothing about the mechanism of the rifle.

The one set of doubles played by Dodge and Hall was won by the Colonial team and the singles played by Ensign and Dodge. The third match will be played later in the season.

Patriotic Services.

Anniversary services appropriate to the Fourth of July were held on Sunday evening in the Spring Street German Lutheran Church. The services were in English and included a musical program appropriate to the occasion. The Young Mannerchor sang selections. Albert Salzmann sang a tenor solo. The topic of Pastor Schmidt's sermon was "The Hand of God in the History of Our Country," showing by the facts of history how God made and kept us one nation. The service was well attended.

Moving Pictures at Eddyville.

George F. Schumann has arranged a series of Saturday night moving picture shows to be held at Schumann Park opposite his hotel at Eddyville on Saturday evenings during the summer. An up-to-date machine has been secured and a competent operator will be in charge.

Automobile Took a Bath.

An automobile owned by Thomas Scott of New York ran off the tow path in front of George Schumann's hotel at Eddyville on Saturday and went into the canal. It was dragged out by horses and will be able to run in a short time. Not much damage was done. Nobody was in the machine at the time and it is thought the owner forgot to apply the brakes when he left the car standing in Schumann's park at that place.

Canoeists Were Upset.

Two young men forming a cruising party from New York, who were out in a canoe off Port Ewen on Saturday afternoon, were thrown into the river when the swells from the steamer Rensselaer struck their craft. A boat was put out from the steamboat and the men were carried to Kingston Point where they were cared for at the Roundout Yacht Club house. Their names could not be learned. But for the vigilance of the crew of the big boat the men would doubtless have been drowned.

Automobile Destroyed by Fire.

The automobile of William Van Bramer, Jr., was destroyed by fire on the Saugerties road on Saturday night shortly before midnight. A leak in a pipe conveying gasoline to the cylinders allowed the gas to take fire and in a second the car was enveloped in flames. Mr. Van Bramer and members of his party, aided by other passing automobilists, threw dirt on the flames but were unable to extinguish them. The car was an E. M. F. and was insured for $200.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 6.—A firm tone pervaded the stock market at the opening today after a two day recess, most attention being directed to Amalgamated Copper and Union Pacific. Amalgamated Copper at 70 1/2 for an advance of 1/4 and quickly increased this gain to 1/2. Union Pacific advanced 1/2 on the opening transaction, but at the end of twenty minutes had increased its gain to 1/2. Southern Pacific advanced 1/2. Despite small trading in U. S. Steel this stock gained 1/2. Western Union was active, opening 1/2 above Friday's closing. Among the other advances were the following: Reading, 1/2; Northern Pacific, 1/2; American Smelting, 1/2, and American Can, 1/2. The curb was steady. Americans in London received support but traders there awaited a lead from New York before extending their transactions. Canadian Pacific in London was firm.

Noon.—Although business was small in volume all through the late forenoon, the strong tone prevailing at the start was well maintained and price movements were practically all in the shape of advances. There was a good demand for Northern Pacific which rose 1/2 to 1 1/2. Union Pacific rose 1/2. Steel common moved up 1/2. Amalgamated Copper rose 1/2 to 71 1/2. Other issues were slightly higher. Call money loaning at 1 1/2 per cent.

2:30 p. m.—Trading was at a stand still in the last hour. Most issues were fractionally lower under the price range of the early afternoon. The tone was quiet.

The stock market closed dull, governments unchanged, other bonds irregular.

POPULAR WITH BALL FANS IN NEW YORK

Larry McLean of New York Giants.

Long Larry McLean has made a great bid for honors since joining the Giants and is playing the best ball of his career in addition to behaving himself on and off the field. While with the Reds Larry developed the reputation of being a "bad actor," but his New York sojourn has been singularly peaceful and free from trouble.

He adds considerable strength to the Giants, stepping into the breach whenever Chief Myers is out of the line-up. Larry is a first-class backstop and is a good hitter. When in condition there are few more valuable men behind the bat in the big leagues. He has got along in good style with McGraw and has given his best efforts to the Giants. Larry acted as catcher for the Cincinnati Reds for several seasons and later was with the St. Louis Cardinals.

A special meeting of the Knights of the Holy Grail of the Trinity M. E. Church has been called for this evening by the Knight Commander, Lester Finley. Corn.—July, 66 1/2c bid; Old, 65 1/2c bid; September, 64c bid; Old, 63 1/2c asked; December, 53 1/2 @ 54c.

Oats.—July, 36 1/2 @ 36 1/2c asked; September, 35 1/4c asked; December, 36 1/2c asked.

Steve Evans of the Tip Tops must have found a magic bat, for he is displaying the highest batting average of any player in the three big leagues.

Outfielder Bert Shotten of the St. Louis Browns has a young brother who is proving a star as a pitcher for the Western Reserve university team.

So far eight clubowners of the American league have entered a protest with the national commission against the proposed third big league.

The Yankees are on a still hunt for some hard hitting outfielders, as Manager Chance is still dissatisfied with the hitting ability of his outfielders.

Manager McCormick of Chattanooga appears to have secured a real find in Bassler, the young semipro, shortfielder sent to Chattanooga by Hughey Jennings.

Dee Walsh, who was released by the St. Louis Browns to Rochester because he could not hit, is swatting the ball like a crazy man in the International league.

Joe Quirk, erstwhile Red Sox and Washington trainer, now with the Brookfords, keeps the players supplied with racing tips and recently gave advance information on a 10 to 1 shot.

Ennis Oakes may never have been accused of brilliancy, but he is man enough to make the Pittsburgh Reds win. Since he took hold the team has played as good ball as any in the league.

The Red Sox may have a very good outfield, but it hasn't got a thing on Mesger McGraw's outer garden. Mesger, Burns and Robertson compose the best outfield in the National league.

The Brooklyn Times the other day said: "For speed in the outfield the trio under the management of Joe Tinker excel any outfield trio seen at Brooklyn this year. All are small size and are southpaws."

Good in a Pinch.

Blackburne is the pinch-hitting member of the White Sox team.

Ever Blames Murphy.

Johnny Evers, captain of the Braves, believes that the old Cub machine would still be in the running for the championship if it had not been disrupted by Charley Murphy. "With Saler, Tinker, Zimmerman and myself in the infield," said Johnny, "Archer and Kling as catchers, Art Hofman, Jim Sheppard and Frank Schulte in the outfield, and the present pitching staff, the club would be in the world's series this fall, instead of struggling along in the second division."

Pennant Cities.

Only nine cities have had pennant-winning teams in the major leagues. Chicago leads the National league with 18, Boston is second with eight, New York is third with seven, Pittsburgh accounted for four, Brooklyn three, Baltimore three, Providence two and Detroit one. Since the American league began play in 1900 the Athletics of Philadelphia have won five, Boston three, Chicago three, and Detroit three.

The Invention of the Panorama.

The panorama was invented by a Scotchman named Robert Barker, who obtained a license in London in 1787 and erected a rotunda on Leicester square. He was associated with Robert Fulton, the practical inventor of the steamboat, who introduced panoramas into Paris in 1793, but resigned in favor of Thayer perhaps in order to give his attention to the application of steam to boats. Thayer raised a rotunda on the Boulevard Montmartre, whence came the name of the Passage des Panoramas. Bonaparte caused plans to be drawn up for eight panoramas, in which his conquests were to be shown to the Parisians, whom he always tried to impress with the magnitude of the achievements in order to keep them faithful to his star. But these projects were never realized.

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke.)

New York, July 6.—It wouldn't be a bad plan for Ban Johnson to stop wasting time making absurd and caustic remarks about the Federal League and devote his time to the affairs in his own league. They certainly demand somebody's attention. There are two or three teams in the American League that need strengthening, and need immediate strengthening for the good of the game. One of those teams is the Yankees. If they had a real ball club here they would outdraw every other city in the American League circuit. But they haven't a good ball club; they have, and have had for a number of years, just about the punkest ball club that ever posed as a major league outfit. The result has been that the Yankees instead of clearing hundreds of thousands of dollars each year, as would be the case with even a half way decent ball club, have annually lost from $23,000 to $75,000. And the visiting teams, instead of picking up some soft money here, usually get just about enough to pay hotel bills.

It was suggested some years ago that some of the clubs in the American League that were well fortified with extra players of major league calibre turn them over at a price, of course to the Yankees. It was known that Ban Johnson, as head of the league, could force such a move was not made.

It was pointed out then that such a move would have made the business side of baseball stand out too much. But the advent of the Feds eliminated this covens on the part of organized baseball about letting the dear public know that the magnates don't care a whoop about sentiment, that they care only for the dollars. There is no longer any attempt to conceal the business side of baseball, simply because such attempts would be futile in the face of the facts that have come to light since the Feds became active.

And now that everybody knows that the magnates are in the game for the money that's in it, why don't they do something that not only will add money to their bank accounts but also will give some towns a real ball club. Why doesn't Ban Johnson force some of the stronger teams in the American League to hand over to the Yanks some of their surplus outfielders, surplus infielders and surplus pitchers? The Yankee management doesn't want those players gratis, it is willing to pay for them and pay a good price. But the other clubs hang onto their extra players, not because they will have any immediate need for their services but more because they don't want some other club to get those players.

The Cleveland Naps need two or three good pitchers. Charlie Somers, the owner, is willing to pay a huge price for a trio of twirlers, because he feels that such an acquisition would quickly lift his team out of the rut. The Naps have lost most of their games this year on account of poor pitching, not because of poor infelding or weak hitting.

But Somers can't get those pitchers. There are at least three teams in the American League who are carrying one or two pitchers as excess baggage. They are so well fortified in the pitching department that they call on the extra men rarely. Somers has bid big prices on these men and has been turned down. The other clubs fear that if the Naps should happen to coral two or three good pitchers they still might make a lot of trouble before the 1914 curtain drops. And so they won't give Somers any help.

The situation is about the same in the National League. The Cincinnati Reds are in need of an experienced outfielder. The Giants have about six of them. Will the Giants sell one of the excess gardeners to the Reds? Not so you could notice it. Why, if they did, it would strengthen the Reds just where they are weakest and maybe the Reds might win the pennant.

The Boston Braves need a pitcher and an outfielder. They are weak in the backstopping department, too. Will any of the first division clubs, who have some extra players in these positions, sell or trade so as to bolster up the Braves? Nay, Nay.

The Phillies need an infielder. Several of the clubs in the National are carrying two or three extra infielders who would fit in fine in the Phillies inner works. But they won't sell because the acquisition of the needed infielder might make the Phillies dangerous.

Brotherly love, where art thou?

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke.)

New York, July 6.—It wouldn't be a bad plan for Ban Johnson to stop wasting time making absurd and caustic remarks about the Federal League and devote his time to the affairs in his own league. They certainly demand somebody's attention.

There are two or three teams in the American League that need strengthening, and need immediate help for the good of the game. One of those teams is the Yankees. We have an unusually large stock of high-grade Refrigerators on hand—in fact too many for this time of year—and, rather than carry them over until next season, we have substantially reduced the prices. The Stone Houses of Easter Island.

The remarkable stone houses of Easter Island are built against a terrace of earth or rock, which in some cases forms the back wall of the dwelling. They are built of small slabs of stratified basaltic rock piled together without cement. No regularity of plan is shown in the construction of a majority of them. The average measurement is as follows: Height from floor to ceiling, 4 feet 6 inches; thickness of walls, 4 feet to 10 inches; width of rooms, 4 feet 6 inches; length of rooms, 12 feet 9 inches; average size of doorways—height, 20 inches; width, 19 inches.

Are You Eating Squabs Regularly?

You ought to. They are delicious. Squabs are young pigeons only four weeks old. Perhaps you have bought in the markets old pigeons, often offered as squabs. They are comparatively tough and stringy. The genuine squabs, such as we sell, are right out of the nest, fat, plump, juicy, weighing from fourteen ounces to a pound apiece. They are fully feathered. Same as old birds. Squabs are highly esteemed as an article of food because the juice of the squab (which is pure liquid protoplasm) is the most nourishing and vitalizing fluid known. In fact there is no bird or flesh food that can equal the squab for condensed nourishment. We can supply squabs at any time on receipt of your order. Prices 75 cents per pair, by parcel post 15 cents extra.
